

THE CROOKED BOAT

A READ-TOGETHER STORY WITH ROOM TO DRAW YOUR OWN VOYAGE.

BENJAMIN BRIXLEY

ORIGIN

Read and draw together

This is an original story about Lio, Mina and a paper boat. Read at your own pace. The drawing pages are optional. A child can describe an idea while an adult writes it down. Adults supervise any real water or craft activities; the book does not require making or sailing a boat.

The paper boat

Lio had made a paper boat with one crooked corner. “It will tip,” said Lio. Mina put it on the table. “It has not met any water yet.” They decided to find a puddle, and Lio carried the boat as carefully as a cup filled to the top.

A detail we noticed

Draw this part of the voyage

Choose a moment from the chapter, or invent your own detail.

